Thanks for this.

Can you let me know when Hunter has been informed?

Here is the recruitment/staffing update:

1. Streetplus will hire 6 ambassadors for South Park, which will give us one extra person for the account.
2. There are 3 applicants that have been interviewed and approved and going through the background check process, to include LAPD review.
3. We have numerous interviews scheduled for tomorrow and Friday.
4. We anticipate another 3 in backgrounds checks tomorrow.
5. Our goal is to have the 6 ambassadors in training at the office on Monday and Tuesday, then sent to South Park on Wednesday and Thursday for training.

The new schedule will leave Johnthon with a decision to make. If he decides to stay as a supervisor or ambassador, we'll have 2 extra.

Ken informed Rual of the promotion and he's excited and appreciates the opportunity. Ken has left two voice mail messages with our customer to discuss transition.

In closing, I'm confident that we'll be fully staffed with professional and trained ambassadors no later than Tuesday of next week. We're working on the NBA All Star game staffing and have several employees that have committed to work.

For your information, I have assumed the responsibility of getting the account staffed and ambassadors trained. Call if you have questions.
